There has been considerable activity on behalf of outside requesters. NSA sent a group of documents from the Eisenhower Library, of which seven were released and two denied; our response has been sent to NSA. In addition, NSA has requested access to CIA material at the Roosevelt Library.

Documents on Vietnam requested by State have been forwarded by the Office of the Secretary of Defense and by the Kennedy Library and these are currently being processed for distribution to the responsible components. A new request from State for access to CIA documents at the National Archives has just been received.

[redacted] has set up an Oral History Archive for the History Staff.
